Moretonhampstead Primary School

Anti - Bullying Policy

Bullying in any form is unacceptable at Moretonhampstead Primary School.

Children learn most effectively in an environment in which they feel safe, secure and happy. At Moretonhampstead we recognise that all adults and children in school have a responsibility to help create such an environment.

What is bullying?

We define bullying as a persistent, deliberate attempt to hurt or humiliate someone which is repeated over time. There is often an imbalance of power which makes it hard for those being bullied to defend themselves. One-off incidents, whilst they may be very serious and will always be dealt with, do not fall within the definition of bullying. Bullying is repetitive, meaning either that an individual conducts the same pattern of bullying behaviour (and this pattern may take different forms) towards different children or that one or more children are targeted to bear the brunt of repeated bullying behaviour from an individual or a group.

What types of bullying are there?

- Emotional (being unfriendly, excluding, tormenting, threatening behaviour)
- Verbal (name calling, sarcasm, spreading rumours, teasing)
- Physical (pushing, kicking, hitting, punching or any use of violence)
- Extortion (demanding money/goods with threats)
- Cyber (all areas of internet, email and internet chatroom & social media misuse. Mobile threats by text messaging and calls. Misuse of associated technology ie: camera and video facilities including those on mobile phones)
- Racist (racial taunts, graffiti, gestures, comments)
- Sexual (unwanted physical contact, sexually abusive comments)
- Homophobic (because of, or focussing on the issue of sexuality)

Statutory Duty of Schools

Headteachers have a legal duty under the Schools Standards and Framework Act of 1998 to draw up procedures to prevent bullying among pupils and to bring these procedures to the attention of staff, parents and pupils.

Moretonhampstead School's Commitment to anti-bullying

We recognise that bullying to some extent exists in every school. It is unacceptable behaviour and therefore at Moretonhampstead we strive to:

- Create an environment where children can talk confidently to the adults in school in the knowledge that their concerns will be taken seriously
- Support children who may have been bullied and try to ensure that they feel safe
- Listen sympathetically to the concerns of parents/carers
- Respond positively to all instances of bullying to ensure that they are dealt with satisfactorily
- Work to change bullying behaviour

We believe that the most effective way to combat bullying is to take a proactive stance so that all members of our school community are aware of their responsibility to create a safe environment. Curriculum time is used to raise awareness of bullying and to develop personal as well as school strategies for dealing with it. Our PSHE scheme includes work on self-esteem, assertiveness, respect for self and others and lines of communication to follow if a child needs to talk to someone.

Units of teaching and learning are planned to coincide with National Anti- Bullying Week each November and also national Online Safety events. We recognise that while children may be able to respond sensitively to materials that depict bullying it takes time and repeated discussion for them to apply it to their own behaviour.

Procedures for dealing with bullying incidents

(see Appendix 2 for a full procedure for staff)

The following steps will be taken when dealing with incidents:

- If bullying is suspected or reported, the incident will be dealt with immediately by the member of staff who has been approached. The victim will be reassured that their concerns are being taken seriously. At this point it will need to be established whether it is bullying (persistent or deliberate attempt to hurt or humiliate) or a one-off incident of unacceptable behaviour.
- The person bullying will then be listened to, to establish fully what has happened.
- A clear account of the incident will be recorded using Alleged Bullying Incident Record Sheet – Appendix 3 which will be given to the Headteacher (or member of SLT in his absence).
- If appropriate, all parties involved should be brought together and the victim given the opportunity to describe their feelings so that the perpetrator is fully aware of the impact of their actions.
- If the victim does not wish to meet the perpetrator, then the adult will take responsibility for explaining the effect of their behaviour on the other child.
- The perpetrator should complete a letter of apology and have an opportunity to apologise to the victim.
- Parents of both parties will be informed.
- The victim's parents need to be reassured that their child will be looked after and that the school will not tolerate bullying. They will be informed that the parents/carers of the perpetrator are being contacted, and that they will be made fully aware of all that has happened. Parents will be advised that the school will be closely monitoring the situation and a follow-up meeting will take place.
- The perpetrator's parents will be informed immediately and invited in for a meeting in order to discuss the incident and concerns. Teacher and parents will work together to ensure there is no repetition of the bullying behaviour. Staff will let them know that the victim's parents have also been contacted.
- The Alleged Bullying Incident Record Sheet – Appendix 3 will be updated to detail actions taken.
- The incident- and type of incident- will be logged by HT or member of SLT for reporting to County.
- The situation will be closely monitored and all other adults who work with the children will be informed – through the Watch Book- so that as many people as possible can ensure that there are no repeat incidents.
- If necessary, appropriate support should be provided for the perpetrator or victim in the form of social skills work or involvement of the school nurse/ outside agency.

Monitoring, evaluation and review

The school will review this policy bi-annually and assess its implementation and effectiveness. The policy will be promoted and implemented throughout the school.

Appendix 1 – Recognising Bullying

1. Recognising likely victims:

Staff need to be proactive in observing pupils who could be vulnerable. These children could include those who:

- are new to a class or our school
- are different in appearance, speech, or background from their peers
- have low self-esteem
- demonstrate "entertaining" reactions when bullied
- are nervous or anxious

Some potential victims are identifiable as individuals; some are identifiable as members of a group. Examples of these groups might include racial background, social status, gender, intelligence.

2. Possible signs of a child who is being bullied:

- Being frightened of walking to or from school
- Being unwilling to go to school
- Changing their route to school
- Beginning to do poorly in their school work / attainment at school dropping.
- Going home regularly with books/clothes damaged
- Erratic attendance
- Being unwilling to go out to play
- Going home hungry (packed lunch/money was taken)
- Showing/ receiving repeated injuries
- Becoming withdrawn
- Becoming easily distressed
- Eating less or in a very different way

Appendix 2: Full procedure for staff: Dealing with Bullying

If bullying is reported to you by a child you should:

- Take action that day.
- Note down all the details but do not ask leading questions. Verify that the details you have are correct and, if possible, find out if other children have seen what is happening. Remain calm when investigating the incident. Reacting emotionally can add to the 'status' of the child bullying and give them control of the situation.
- Speak to the child who is being bullied. Write down everything that they say. Establish whether it is bullying (ie persistent or deliberate attempt to hurt or humiliate) and find out for how long it has been happening.
- Ask the child if they would feel comfortable if they met with the person who has been bullying. If they do, then bring the children together, so that the child bullying can be made fully aware of the feelings of the victim. If the victim does not want to meet the perpetrator, then speak to them on your own, and outline all of the details that have been passed on to you. This must be done in a calm but firm manner, explaining the effect on the other child and telling them how worried you are about the victim. The child bullying needs to be fully aware of the impact of their actions.
- Report the incident to the Headteacher, deputy safeguarding officer or member of SLT.
- Contact parents of the victim: teachers should contact the parents of the victim first. Invite them to school and explain what you have been informed of. Reassure them that their child will be looked after and that the school will not tolerate bullying. Tell parents that the parents/carers of the child bullying are being contacted, and that they will be made fully aware of all that is happening.
- Offer advice and support to parents and that if for example, it is happening in the playground and the child is worried about being out there, that the child who is bullying will be removed from the playground if necessary, for some lunchtime sessions. (They can complete a reflection sheet or write a letter of apology to the victim – they must be supervised in school.) If it is happening at the end of the school day/on the way home, then the parents of the child bullying will have to come and accompany them home.
- Note down key discussion points from the meeting.
- Inform parents that you will contact them again to follow up the situation. Call them a few days or a week later, to check how the victim is feeling/ see if there are further concerns.
- Contact parents of the child bullying: teachers should contact this child's parents/carers straight after contacting the victim's parents. Parents should be invited to school for a meeting. This meeting should be conducted with the Headteacher present. It may also be appropriate for the child bullying to be present at the meeting with parents.
- Explain fully the situation and if necessary, show them your notes from meetings with witnesses, to demonstrate that this is not a one-off event.
- Explain that you have already spoken to their child, to get a full account of what is happening, and to give them the opportunity to give their side of the story. This has also been done to explain to the child bullying the impact of the actions on the victim. Let them know that the victim's parents have also been contacted.
- Explain any punitive measures, such as removing the child from the playground on a short-term basis, so that they can see that the school is being proactive about the situation. Also explain that their child will be given the opportunity to apologise to the victim.

- It would be positive if the child bullying could talk to their parents, and have the opportunity to explain their feelings about the situation, and what they could have done to prevent it happening initially.
- Explain that the incident is being recorded on a Bullying Incident Report Form (Appendix 3), as is normal procedure at Moretonhampstead Primary School. Solicit their support for mechanisms to help their child if necessary.
- Offer to contact the parents in the future, to find out how the child is, and to show that we care about all children.
- Closely monitor the situation involving the children concerned, and inform other adults who work with the children and lunch-time supervisors, including completing a Watch Book entry, so that as many people as possible can ensure that there are no repeat incidents.

Responding to groups:

It is important to know something of the dynamics of the group before you act.

Tackle each group member individually and find out exactly what is happening, and their feelings about the situation or those of other people involved. Get each person to take responsibility for his/her actions. It is particularly important to identify the ring leader. If, as a result of these meetings, it is established that bullying is happening, then the same procedures should be followed as above in dealing with the victim and perpetrators of bullying behaviour.

Preventative tactics:

Prevention is better than cure

- Ensure that anti-bullying remains a high profile area of concern for children. We want Moretonhampstead Primary School to be a 'telling school', where children feel relaxed and secure about coming forward to tell others about bullying.
- The ethos of the school should promote positive behaviour towards everyone.
- Remind children that if they have problems they should talk to someone, either at home or at school.
- Communicate with other staff: ensure that lunchtime staff, PPA teachers, TAs and other adults who work with any children involved in bullying situations are aware, so that they can monitor behaviour and the relationships between children at school. The more people that know, the more we can care for each other and the less likely it is that such situations will arise again.
- Ensure that your PSHE work includes regular examples of work to boost children's self-esteem, value the differences of others, work cooperatively on tasks and understand the feelings of others in different situations. Use feelings fans and/or emotional barometers regularly, so that children have the opportunity to discuss their feelings, grade them appropriately, and begin to understand how people's feelings and actions can have an impact on others.
